Langtang Valley Trek

Langtang Valley Trek, as its name sounds, takes place in the valley that lies close to Kathmandu. That's why it is easy for a trekking company to refer this trek to the trekkers who want to do one of the shortest and easiest treks of Nepal within their desired time frame. Langtang Valley Trek is only 7 days, but to complete this trek, you will need 9 days, and we all know that our office gives us 2 weeks of paid vacation every year.

In Kathmandu, you are going to stay at the 3-star category hotel (Value). During the trekking, you will be spending your nights in a tea house. Actually, the tea house is a lodge or a guest house. The tea house is an old name that the trekking agency use for a lodge, and they have been using it for more than 40 years. After all, it used to sell only tea then. Now, they also sell meals and provide bedrooms for the trekkers and climbers. Hence, the name tea house trek is used. Tea house differs from village to village where you will be spending your nights. Some have attached bathrooms and running water,

Walk miles for a good cause

Travel Max Guide is the inception of the First Act Nepal (FAN). Our team is working for a good cause. That might be a good question- there are lots of organizations working for a social cause, but why we are adding the numbers. What might be the reason? The reason is simple; we do love to share what we have. We are strongly guided by the principal, “Love Your Neighbor as Yourself.” So we do it sincerely, honestly, and effectively.

Travel Max Guide donates a certain amount of its income to FAN. It’s a team working for the children of Nepal.

Support for the Child Sponsorship Program is what Travel Max Guide would like to tell its clients. It’s just a small contribution to our children who are longing for love and support. If our small contribution can make things different, why not contribute to them. We are looking to build our communities bigger. So let’s share what we can do, let’s do what we are supposed to do from the religious point of view. Listen to your heart what these children are saying.

Volunteering opportunities

This topic is always a key point for us. And we are working on it too. If you are looking to do volunteer or engage in some kind of social work, then you can contact us.

Group trekking/ Single trekking

In a group trekking, normally, there will be a minimum of 2 people and a maximum of 30. In the group trekking, there will be a trekking guide, one porter for every two trekkers, and an assistant trekking guide for 8 people. The company will run private trekking for you at your own time frame and requirements.

Special events

If you are looking to make special events in any part of Nepal, such as filming, then you can count on Travel Max Guide for it, including travel documentaries, travel photography, and so on. Travel max Guide helps you in accomplishing your

Welcome to the Land of Himalayas. Your first step will be at the Tribhuvan International Airport in Kathmandu. Travel Max Guide representative will be outside of the airport by holding the company signboard where you can see your written name so how you can find us easily. We will drop you at the hotel. If you arrived in the day time, we will meet at our office, explain to you about the trip. At this time if you have any kind of questions, you can ask us. We will address your queries. We can also meet you at your hotel and let you know about your trip. After all, if you get free time, you can walk around the Thamel. It's a touristic hub of Nepal where you can find many places to hang around.
